How to Stop Fear from Stopping Your Freight

Pak Mail offers discounts and tips to avoid the scary cost and hassle of freight shipping.

Livermore, CA, Oct. 25, 2011 – Pak Mail of Livermore is slashing costs for oversize and overweight shipping to help customers stop their fear of freight. Customers will receive 10% off already discounted freight shipping and 15% off freight packaging, which includes custom built crates, cartons, pallets, and inner packing. When booking your freight shipment use promo code: FREIGHT2011. The item must weigh at least 150 lbs or be greater than 150 inches in length to qualify. No matter the size or weight, Pak Mail has economical solutions for packing and shipping anything, anywhere.

“We can ship freight by land, air, or ocean to offer customers complete confidence that no matter how large or delicate the shipment, it will get there safely and on time,” said Pak Mail owner Cyndi McGhee. Assumptions are made that freight shipments cost a fortune and it’s just not worth the hassle to pack and ship, McGhee said. The end result: valuable freight that ends up going nowhere. Pak Mail offers three tips to help customers avoid the scary costs and hassles of freight shipping:

- Use a freight forwarding broker like Pak Mail and stop paying full rates for your inbound and outbound freight. With locations nationwide and internationally, Pak Mail uses its franchise shipping volume and buying power to negotiate considerable discounts with the major freight carriers. Pak Mail will find the most economical solution and pass discounted rates onto customers.
- Ask to waive extra charges, such as the residential delivery fee, single shipment fee, notification fee, and lift gate fee. You can always avoid these extra costs by shipping your freight with Pak Mail.
- Prevent damage and loss by using professional packers. Pak Mail experts know what it takes to protect items in transit and meet domestic and international shipping regulations. Pak Mail also offers declared value coverage to insure items up to $50,000. Pak Mail recommends taking photos of items being shipped and providing a list of the items to the shipper.
